1088 Third Avenue, San Diego, California 92101

Dear Friend & Supporter,

GENI is a nonprofit organization that conducts research into the development of electric grids between nations and continents with an emphasis on tapping abundant renewable energy resources.

We are excited to announce our newest project, 100% Renewable San Diego. We started with the question, how can we make San Diego 100% renewable by the year 2020? From there we have begun to develop a comprehensive page on our website to display information on how to reach this goal. We believe this page provides the best available resources on sustainability and renewable energy geared towards San Diego.

Our next step in this project is to become a hub for other cities working to achieve the same goal of 100% renewable energy. We are continuing to grow by adding more resources to our page, publishing a plan for how to achieve 100% renewable energy in San Diego, implementing community outreach events, and more.

The 100% Renewable San Diego project is enhanced by your support to fund research and events. If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to contact us at (619) 595-0139 or via email at peter@geni.org. We look forward to your support in making 100% Renewable San Diego a reality.

Sincerely,

The Global Energy Network Institute
